

How You Can

STOP WASTING TIME on the WRONG MEN and Finally Get the

UNCONDITIONAL LOVE
You Deserve.

A SHORT SUMMARY

The Big Questions

we're going to answer on this webinar:

- Why is it so hard to find a quality man?
- Why do some women get to marry the man of their dreams and others end up alone?
- How do you know when a man is right for you?
- How do you know when a man is wrong for you?
- What are you doing right now to attract your Mr. Right?

Getting Your Facts Straight About Men and Marriage

96% of people eventually get married.

College-educated women who marry over the age of 30 have only a 20% divorce rate.

The likelihood your man cheats on you is less than 6% per year.

Men fall in love faster and need less personal space.

65% of men are open to remarrying after divorce, compared with 49% of women.

One third of marriages in the past decade started online.

Women in the top 15% of earners are more likely to be married.

An educated single woman at age 40 is much more likely to marry in the next decade than her less educated counterparts.

Learning What to Do

The reason you are so tempted to give up entirely – even when you know that millions of other women are in wonderful, healthy relationships – is that you don't know what to do.

And if you don't know what to do, love will ALWAYS be a waste of time.

You don't have to change yourself to find love.

You just have to change your choice of men.

Tip #1:

You Should Stop Settling on the Wrong Qualities.

The definition of settling is wasting time on men who are selfish, emotionally unavailable, and unwilling to compromise or commit - not going out with a guy one inch taller, a few years older or without an advanced degree.

Attractive vs Important

Attractive qualities are what draw you into a relationship.

Important qualities are what determine whether your relationship thrives.

The issue is that you've usually fallen for men with a lack of important qualities.

Women who settle are unhappy.

Women who compromise are happy.

Tip #2:

You must be the CEO of your own love life.

Four reasons you've stayed with the wrong man for too long:

- 1 You didn't think you could do any better.
- 2 The chemistry was intense and you didn't want to let it go.
- 3 You already put in so much time that it was hard to walk away.
- 4 The first few months were so great that you hoped he'd go back to the way he was.

What determines whether an "intern" gets the job as your boyfriend?

Simple: the one who works the hardest for it. He plans. He pays. He talks about a future. He leaves his weekends open for you. He communicates frequently in between dates.

Once you see yourself as the CEO, it should only take 4-6 weeks to interview interns instead of wasting precious years on them.

You hold all the power in the relationship. Not men.

Tip #3: Act like a confident woman.

The #1 trait that people find attractive in others is confidence.

Once you summon this trait, you will have these 7 advantages over other women:

- 1 You're going to put up a great online dating profile that's unique and funny, instead of giving up because of some bad experiences.
- 2 You're going to initiate contact with a guy instead worrying about rejection.
- 3 You'll go on a first date with a cute guy and not worry about whether you're going to get a second date.
- 4 You assume that each and every man who meets you is going to fall for you.
- 5 You're not going to obsess over whether he texted. You know that if a guy doesn't follow up after a few days, it's HIS loss, not yours.
- 6 You can speak your mind to your boyfriend. You know your feelings are valid and you have the ability to express them in a way that makes him want to take care of you.
- 7 When you have confidence, you don't stick around in a relationship where your needs aren't being met. You know what you're worth and you will not settle for less.

Your Takeaways

Your Four Biggest Takeaways from This Webinar:

- 1 The way you know your guy is wrong for you is that he makes you unhappy.
- 2 The best way to know if a guy is right for you is the absence of anxiety.
- 3 The biggest lie ever perpetrated by parents, couples, relationship counselors, clergy members and self-help gurus is that "relationships take work!"
- 4 A good relationship is easy. If it's not easy, it's not that good.

What You Can Do Now:

"A good relationship is EASY. If it's not easy, it's not that good."

That's a powerful statement, but it also leaves a host of questions about what this revelation means for you personally:

- What do you do if your confidence is shattered?
- What if you're out of practice?
- What if you're burned out on dating?
- What if you've struggled with online dating?
- What if you can't find men you're attracted to?
- What if you can't get the attractive men to commit?
- What if you don't even trust your judgment anymore?

This is why I created Love U – to answer every question you have about dating, relationships, and men.

Love U is the only comprehensive coaching program for women who want to understand men and find love.

When you've graduated, you will find a quality, commitment-oriented man who sees you at your best, accepts you at your worst and makes you feel safe, heard, and understood.

Imagine how great that will feel.

Imagine never going on another bad date again.

Imagine having a true best friend, lover and partner-in-crime.

If it sounds like something you want to experience as soon as possible, that's what I'm offering you today when you join Love U.

The sale lasts until Sunday, September 17 at 11:59 PM PST.

Click here to get started in Love U and get the relationship you desire